YVNG JALAPENO

Hitting the upper end of the Scoville scale, YVNG JALAPENO is turning out wonky bass scorchers that are fast making him one of the hottest names in the scene – pun intended!

YVNG JALAPENO, known to his Mum as Jordan Bale, has been a bedroom beat-maker since his early teens when he first developed an interest in electronic music. With a wide range of musical influences, from Bob Marley to Baauer and RL Grime, Jordan is producing energetic beats with that have garnered him attention from huge names in the scene. His track 'Marty' had BBC Radio 1 spins from Baauer and A-Trak, was supported by Flosstradamus and included in The Chainsmokers' podcast, and he's a stalwart on Triple J Unearthed.

No stranger to the live scene, YVNG JALEPENO has played sets at Splendour in the Grass and Listen Out, headlined his own tour in late 2016 and played huge support sets for Marshmellow, Getter and Hermitude.

With loads of new music in the works for 2017, as well as some top-secret collabs with other Australian artists, YVNG JALAPENO is bringing heat and flavour to the spicy burrito that is the Australian music scene!
